Spiced and Pickled Fruits.

The method of spicing and pickling fresh summer fruits was an art dear to our grandmothers and one in which they excelled. Later generations have been taught that these artificial combinations of acids, sweets and spices were a snare to the unwary appetite and an injury to the stomach of those who freely indulged in these piquant viants. With few exceptions the use of pickled and spiced fruits was confined for some washed, two pounds of sugar, one pint of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls each of ground cinnamon, cloves and allspices.

Have Been Cared For.

All the horses, cattle and hogs saved from the flood in North Topeka by the Foster Humane society have been reclaimed.

There were eleven horses which the society fed in North Topeka until the water receded sufficiently for them to be brought to the South side to be kept at a livery stable. The cows and pigs were put in a pasture east of town. The horses legs were raw to the knees from standing so long in the mud, and they were treated by a veterinary and entirely cured before being restored to their owners. The dogs, cats and birds which the officers of the society took from the flooded houses have also found homes, either with their former owners or new ones. For several days Mrs. C. G. Fester had fifteen dogs at her home on Harrison street.

The society is to have a meeting in about two weeks, at which means of raising money to replace the building fund, which was devoted to the flood fund, will be discussed. Earlier in the season before the flood it was the intention to give a large lawn fete at the Foster residence for the benefit of the society, but this was in-genium, as Mrs. Foster and her daughters are now at the lakes.
